Where to access Information and Support

1. In your group, read through the contact cards/leaflets about agencies where you access information and support in Edinburgh.
2. Read through the scenarios below.
3. Discuss and agree your answers to the following questions for each young person:
 - a. Where could this young person find the information they need?
 - b. How could they get there?
 - c. Where could they go to talk to someone and get the right kind of support?
 - d. How could they get there?
 - e. Is there anything that you think might put them off seeking information or support?
 - f. What could you do or say as a friend to help them overcome this and get the help they need?

- i. Gavin is 17, and has fallen out with a group of older young men he had been hanging out with. He got into smoking while he was part of the group, but has now decided to stop as he fears it will affect his sex life after reading about the links to smoking and erectile dysfunction on line. His girlfriend has also suggested that she'd prefer kissing him if he didn't smoke, and he's aware of the new tobacco laws prohibiting sales to under 18s.
- ii. Shelley is 19 and regularly smokes roll-ups – she has done since she was 11. She's very conscious of her figure, is almost constantly out of breath and has been off work with Bronchitis 3 times this year. She has also been teased recently about her "muffin top" at work. She doesn't really want to give up smoking, but she knows that her body is being badly affected by smoking and is very concerned about how it might affect her in the future, particularly as she is thinking about having children.
- iii. Matt is 21, a heavy smoker, and is losing interest in having a physical relationship with his long term girlfriend. He is also losing his stamina in the 5-a-side games he plays each week with his mates. He doesn't feel good about smoking, and doesn't enjoy it much any more, so he feels it would be a good time to stop.
